Stanley Donen*

Stanley Donen was born in Columbia, South Carolina, on April 13, 1924, the son of Mortie and Helen Donen.

He grew up in Columbia and first became interested in film when his father presented him with a hand-cranked projector. As a child, he enjoyed taking his 8mm camera with him on trips, photographing the highways, trees, and signs he passed.

At the age of nine, Mr. Donen was impressed with the musical film Flying Down to Rio and became interested in cinema and dance. He studied dance in Columbia and in New York. At the age of 16, immediately after receiving his high school diploma, his passion for the business of entertainment took him from Columbia to Broadway.

In the fall of 1940, Mr. Donen made his stage debut as a chorus boy in the musical Pal Joey. During the summer of 1942, he came back to Columbia for a short time to study at the University of South Carolina. Later that year, he returned to the New York stage working as an assistant stage manager. He made his film debut in 1943, dancing in the chorus of Best Foot Forward.

After deciding that show business would be his lifetime career, Mr. Donen signed a seven-year contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and assisted Gene Kelly in choreographing some musical sequences in the 1944 film Cover Girl. In 1945, Mr. Donen used an innovative blend of live action and animation in the film Anchors Aweigh. Working with some of Hollywood's top performing artists, Mr. Donen choreographed more than sixteen films from 1940 to 1959.

He made his directorial debut in 1949 with the musical, On the Town. His list of credits as director includes classics such as Singin' in the Rain, Funny Face, The Pajama Game, and Damn Yankees.

In the 1960s, Mr. Donen successfully ventured into the suspense genre as a producer and director creating films such as Charade and Arabesque. More recently, he has produced The Little Prince, Lucky Lady, Movie Movie, Two for the Road, and Blame It on Rio.

Mr. Donen has been described as the finest director of film musicals of more recent vintage. With work still in progress, he has made twenty-seven films and has enjoyed immense success in the film industry. In his own words, Mr. Donen says, "Entertaining people is, to me, the bottom line."

Mr. Donen resides in Los Angeles, California. He has three sons: Peter, Joshua, and Mark.

For his contribution to the arts as a filmmaker, for his role as a premier builder and developer of the American film musical genre, and for his four decades of labor in bringing visual expressions of American life to the screen, the University of South Carolina, with the approval of its Board of Trustees, now presents Stanley Donen for the honorary degree of Doctor of Fine Arts.

of Doctor of Public Service

Edwin Craig Wall, Jr. was born in Conway, South Carolina, on August 21, 1937, the son of May Howard Wall and the late E. Craig Wall, Sr.

He received his bachelor of arts degree in economics from Davidson College in 1959, and his master of business administration degree from Harvard University in 1962. After completing his education, Mr. Wall returned to Conway and began working in his family's business, Canal Wood Corporation. Seven years later, Mr. Wall helped form Canal Industries by consolidating several companies. He became the chief operating officer for the corporation in 1969, and the chief executive officer in 1985. Today, Canal Industries is an integrated corporation involved in land ownership and management, raw fiber procurement, lumber manufacturing, and retail building material stores, as well as an active investment program in the Southeast.

Active in regional business concerns, Mr. Wall serves on the boards of directors of Blue Cross/Blue Shield of South Carolina, Citizens and Southern Corporation, SCANA Corporation, Sonoco Products Company, and Ruddick Corporation. In addition, he serves on the boards of several closely associated private corporations. In 1988, he was named Business Man of the Year by the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce.

Believing that involvement is the basis of the democratic system, Mr. Wall has been actively involved during his career with more than forty civic groups, educational institutions, and philanthropic organizations throughout the Southeast. Currently, he is affiliated with sixteen.

The main thrust of Mr. Wall's civic activity has been in education. He is a member of the Coastal Educational Foundation, the University of South Carolina Educational Foundation, the USC Business Partnership Foundation, the board of visitors for the E. Craig Wall Sr. School of Business Administration at USC Coastal Carolina, and the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges. He is the chairman of Davidson College's board of trustees and a member of Converse College's board of trustees as well as a member of the Clemson University President's Advisory Council.

Mr. Wall is also a director or trustee of the South Carolina Tourism Council, the South Carolina Research Authority, Brookgreen Gardens, and the Palmetto Foundation.

He has been recognized for community service by a number of organization including the Pee Dee Area Council of Boy Scouts of America, who presented him with the Silver Beaver Award in 1972, and the Conway American Legion Post III, which gave him the Distinguished Service Award in 1982.

Mr. Wall is married to Judith Atkins Wall, and they have three children: Judith Atkins Wall, Edwin Craig Wall III, and Benjamin Rutledge Wall II. The family resides in Conway.

For his outstanding leadership in local, state and regional business communities; for his efforts in improving the economic position of the Waccamaw/Grand Strand Region of South Carolina; and for his deep concern for and active role in improving higher education in South Carolina, the University of South Carolina, with the approval of its Board of Trustees, now presents Edwin Craig Wall, Jr. for the honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service.

HISTORICAL NOTES

Higher Education in Horry County had its beginning with the formation of the Coastal Educational Foundation on July 23, 1954. The Foundation, an eleemosynary corporation, gave birth to the Horry County Higher Education Commission which was created by statute on April 9, 1959. These two groups established and supported Coastal Carolina Junior College, the forerunner of Coastal Carolina College of the University of South Carolina.

Coastal Carolina College signed its first contract with the University of South Carolina on August 1, 1959, and received its first students with the beginning of the fall semester on September 16, 1960. Coastal Carolina served as a two-year regional campus of the University for the next thirteen years.

By special legislation, Coastal Carolina added a junior year to its educational program with the fall semester, 1973. Subsequently, the senior year followed, and Coastal Carolina became a four-year branch of the University of South Carolina with authority to award baccalaureate degrees.

The College now has over 4000 students with 153 full-time faculty members. Students may pursue associate and baccalaureate degrees in twenty-two fields of study, while participating in more than thirty student clubs and organizations.

THE CAROLINA MACE

The University's Mace, designed and fashioned by the world famous English silversmith Leslie Durbin, is the symbol of the University's corporate entity and authority as well as of the endeavors of the entire university community. It was created and dedicated in 1967 and is carried in procession on occasions of outstanding importance, such as degree-granting ceremonies or formal dedications. Placing the Mace on its stand is a signal that the proceedings are about to come to order; its retirement indicates that the exercises are concluded.

The Mace, representing the whole of the University, is carried in today's graduation procession by Coastal's senior faculty member, Professor James Branham. Professor Branham has been a member of the Coastal Carolina College Department of History for the past twenty-six years.

ACADEMIC COSTUME AND PROCESSION

The custom of wearing a distinctive dress for academic ceremonies goes back to the Middle Ages, when people dressed in keeping with their class: nobility, clergy, or third estate. The faculties of American universities have worn distinguishing costumes from the beginning at Harvard in 1636.

Academic costume is at present worn in the United States by persons taking part in academic ceremonies in general, at commencement exercises, at baccalaureate services, and at various inauguration ceremonies, such as the installation of a president, the conferring of an honorary degree on a distinguished guest, or the laying of the cornerstone of a building.

The institutions awarding degrees, the nature of the degrees, and the major fields of knowledge represented by the degrees can be readily identified by the design and colors used.

GOWNS: The Bachelor's gown is black, has long pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The Master's gown is black, and is usually worn open. The long pointed sleeves are closed and hang down from the elbow. The Doctor's gown is usually black. It is worn open or closed. On each sleeve there are three horizontal velvet bars. In recent years colleges have begun granting associate degrees to students who complete two years of work successfully. At degree-granting ceremonies, grey gowns similar to the bachelor's gown are usually worn.

CAPS: The square Oxford cap ("mortarboard") of serge or broadcloth, with a stiff crown, is traditionally black. Once the baccalaureate degree has been conferred, the tassel is worn on the left side. The tassel is black for Bachelors and Masters and gold for Doctors.

HOODS: The greatest degree of symbolism is shown by the hood. The size and shape of the American hood marks the college degree attained by the wearer. The lining of the hood is indicative of the college by which the degree was granted. (If more than one color is used, one color is generally arranged as a chevron upon the other.) For example, University of South Carolina's hoods are lined in garnet and black, University of Colorado's in gold and silver, Middlebury's in Yale blue and white, and Rutgers' in scarlet. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the major field of knowledge:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Business, Commerce	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Journalism	Crimson
Laws	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Science	Cream
Theology	Red

Most academic ceremonies begin and end with an academic procession. At USC Coastal Carolina, the candidates for degrees are first and process in the order in which the degrees will be bestowed, followed by the platform party and deans. The faculty is next and arranged by rank, with the senior professors first.

MAY 1989 GRADUATES

The following list of candidates for graduation was prepared before final grades were reported and inclusion herein does not constitute evidence of graduation. The listing of a name in this program should not be construed as an indication that the person will in fact receive a degree from the University of South Carolina at this commencement. Conversely, the absence of a student's name from this list does not necessarily mean that the person will not be awarded a degree. Honors for degree candidates are based on the cumulative grade point average on file at this time. Honors to be printed on the diploma will be based on the final cumulative grade point average on all collegiate work.

"WE HAIL THEE, CAROLINA"

(Tune — Flow Gently, Sweet Afton)

We hail thee, Carolina, and sing thy high praise;
With loyal devotion, rememb'ring the days,
When proudly we sought thee, thy children to be;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Since pilgrims of learning, we entered thy walls
And found dearest comrades in thy classic halls;
We've honored and loved thee, as sons faithfully;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Generations of sons have rejoiced to proclaim
Thy watchword of service, thy beauty and fame
For ages to come shall their rallying cry be;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Fair shrine of high honor and truth, thou shalt still
Blaze forth as a beacon, thy mission fulfill;
And be crowned by all hearts in a new jubilee;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!
